

疾如風
徐如林
侵如火
掠如風

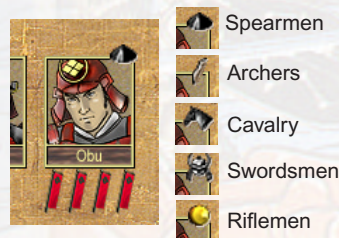

THE DEPLOYMENT SCREEN IS USED TO ARRANGE YOUR TROOPS BEFORE BATTLE.

PLAN CAREFULLY TO ENSURE THE SUCCESS OF YOUR ARMY.

The flags under a general's portrait indicate the number of battalions he commands.

Unit icons indicate the type of division the general commands and their relative skill level.

Drag and drop portraits of your generals from the list at the bottom of the screen, into the deployment slots.

Place portraits in detachment slots to send a division to strike the enemy headquarters, or delay an enemy strike division.

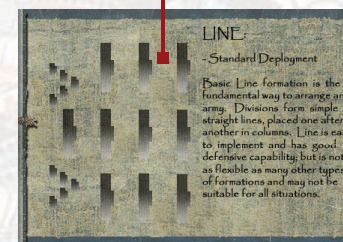

Right-click on a portrait to change the division type under the general's command.

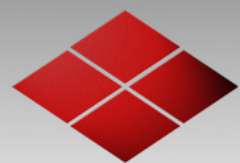

The battlefield window shows how the army is currently deployed.

Click on the formation window to change the formation of the army.

TAKEDA
BETA VERSION 1.01
Quick Reference Card

DEPLOYMENT SCREEN

THE BATTLE MODE SCREEN IS THE MAIN PLAY ENVIRONMENT OF THE GAME. BATTLE TAKES PLACE IN REAL TIME, SO YOU MUST THINK QUICKLY IN ORDER TO ACHIEVE VICTORY.

The battlefield window gives you a bird's eye view of the battle. Click on a unit to select and center on his division. Hold CTRL and click on a unit to find out how he feels.

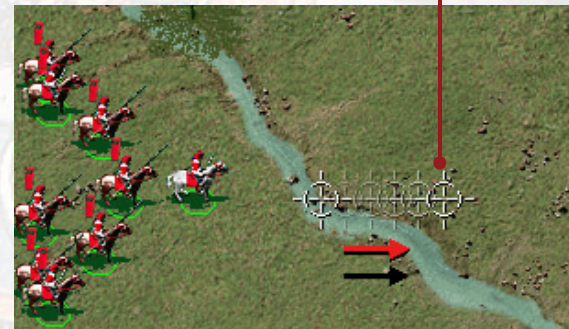

(Move the whole army at the same time)

Use the army commands to control all your forces at once.

Left-click the mouse button to specify a destination. Hold and drag the mouse button to change the orientation of your division, then release to issue the command.

Left-click on a general's portrait to center on his division.

Right-click on one of your soldiers, or on a general's portrait to bring up the command menu.

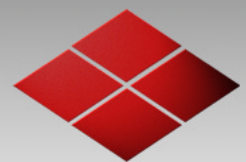

The map window provides a strategic overview of the situation. Click on the map window to re-center the battlefield.

Use the command menu to control the division's actions and formation.

疾如風
徐如林
侵掠如火
不動如山

TAKEDA
BETA VERSION 1.01
Quick Reference Card

© Magitech Corporation, 2001

BATTLE MODE SCREEN